

Biography of Jennifer Furey

Jennifer Furey is a Partner in the Litigation group at Goulston & Storrs in Boston. Intellectual property litigation is the focal point of her legal practice. She represents individuals and businesses with high-stakes intellectual property matters concerning utility and design patents, trademarks, trade dress, trade secrets, false advertising and copyrights. Jennifer has tried numerous cases to verdict and has successfully obtained summary judgment on behalf of clients in intellectual property matters. She obtained her JD from Boston College Law School (summa cum laude) and BA from Providence College (cum laude). Jennifer was recognized in Boston Magazine's

Top Women Attorneys in Massachusetts list in April 2015.