

Joan A. Lukey

Practice Group Leader, Choate Hall & Stewart LLP

For more than thirty years, Joan Lukey has tried complex business litigation, employment, and other cases in state and federal court in Massachusetts and New Hampshire and nationwide. She has tried approximately 100 jury trials, and a myriad of bench trials and arbitrations in all aspects of business disputes. In addition, she is an accomplished appellate lawyer, having argued approximately 60 federal and state appeals.

Since 1983, Ms. Lukey has been selected by her peers for each edition of The Best Lawyers in America in the areas of business, bet-the-company, commercial, personal injury, employment and First Amendment litigation. She has also been routinely recognized for the last several years in Chambers USA and Chambers Global as a Band One Litigator.

Ms. Lukey is a past President of the prestigious American College of Trial Lawyers, the first woman ever to hold this position. She joined Ropes & Gray as a partner in the Complex Business Litigation Practice Group in 2008, after almost thirty years as a partner at WilmerHale. She has served twice as a Massachusetts Special Assistant Attorney General and has written extensively on issues of Gubernatorial and Presidential Executive Privilege.
